Promoting Infrastructure Development in Africa

The infrastructure deficit in Africa is a major constraint to its development and yet, if successfully addressed, this area could offer massive potential for growth. Africa’s current level of infrastructure limits trade, access to markets and basic services, and competitiveness.

The African Development Bank promotes infrastructure projects and gives special attention to Public-Private Partnership investments. It advises enterprises on the structuring of such projects, assists governments in order to introduce conducive legal and regulatory frameworks, and provides technical assistance on enhancing capacity to adequately structure IPP programs.

Through its private sector window, the African Development Bank supports private sector initiatives and provides financial assistance for viable projects through loans, equity and quasi equity investments, guarantees, lines of credit, loan syndication and underwriting/advisory services.

A strong pipeline of projects and increasing demands for the Bank Group participation presents significant opportunities for growth, synergy and catalytic impact. In line with its strategic objectives, the Bank seeks to utilize its integrated structure by having sovereign, sub-sovereign and non-sovereign instruments to promote private sector led growth. Current operational focus is on infrastructure, industry and services, financial intermediation and the development of Micro, Small and Medium Enterprises.

Private sector project approval average USD 1.5 billion annually. Infrastructure is the core of private sector operations.
